EXHIBITS OF CONTEMPORARY CUBA, ADOLPH GOTTLIEB

Cuba: ¡Imaginate!, a photography exhibition documenting contemporary life in Cuba, will be on view at Casa Bacardi, UM’s Institute for Cuban and Cuban-American Studies, from Tuesday, June 10, to Sunday, September 14. The exhibit includes more than 50 photographs by Cuban-American photographer Roy Llera, a photojournalist who through his work has documented the Cuban people and their daily struggle. For more information, read the news release.

Over at the Lowe, The Beginning of Seeing: Adolph Gottlieb and Tribal Art, will be on exhibit from Saturday, June 14, through Sunday, July 27. Organized by The New Britain Museum of American Art, the exhibition explores the strong connections between the pictographs of Adolph Gottlieb and African, pre-Columbian, and Native American art. For more information, read the news release.

'CANES REALLY DO CARE!

Thank you to all the volunteers and 'Canes Care Coordinators that participated in our Second Annual 'Canes Care Day, the UMAA’s National Community Outreach Program that was held on Saturday, May 31st. This year, eight alumni groups participated: Broward, Central Pennsylvania, Miami, New Jersey, New York, Palm Beach, San Diego, and Washington, DC. Tampa and Denver are planning projects for later in the summer. Stay tuned to our website for more information and pictures of their events. We were very proud to have the University Credit Union as our 'Canes Care sponsor.
