The University of Miami is committed to making its campuses among the best in the nation, and we strive to do everything we can to maintain a safe environment. Safety, however, starts with the individual—you should always exercise caution and awareness to ensure your personal safety. Nowhere is this more important than when you go off campus, particularly if you are walking.

Keep in mind the variety of entertainment and food services conveniently located on the Coral Gables campus. You can find food and beverages at places including Starbucks, the Hurricane Food Court, Storm Surge Café, The Eye-Sharro, and the Rathskeller, some of which offer extended hours. If you want to go to shopping and recreational spots off campus, there are several ways to get there: in your own vehicle, by foot, or by University shuttle.

A GUIDE TO PEDESTRIAN SAFETY

STICK TO THE CROSSWALKS

Always use the crosswalks designated on this map when crossing Ponce de Leon Boulevard and U.S. 1.
If you’re walking to your destination, please remember that the University is in a major urban area with heavy vehicular traffic. The Coral Gables campus, in particular, is located next to a major thoroughfare: U.S. 1 (South Dixie Highway), a six-lane highway. Pedestrian safety is critically important—every year in the United States about 5,000 pedestrians are killed in traffic crashes and 80,000 more are injured. That’s more than one fatality every two hours and an injury every seven minutes.

As a pedestrian, you can’t control how others drive—so you need to protect yourself. Abide by these tips—they’ll help make every step a safe one:

• Always use sidewalks when available. Never walk on a highway or expressway.
• On a road without a sidewalk, always walk facing traffic.
• On busy streets, cross at an intersection with a marked crosswalk. Don’t jaywalk.
• Before crossing a street, stop at the curb and carefully scan for approaching traffic, looking both to the left and the right. Obey traffic signs and signals.
• When it is safe to cross, walk briskly while continuing to scan traffic. Never assume a driver sees you.
• Take special precautions when necessary, such as in bad weather or around construction areas or heavy vegetation.
• Don’t use personal stereo systems while walking.
• At night, wear bright and/or reflective clothing and carry a flashlight.
• Under Florida Statute 316.130, crossing intersections or roadways at non-designated crosswalks (also known as jaywalking) is a crime. Police officers can and do enforce blatant and dangerous displays of jaywalking on the University of Miami campus. Save yourself a ticket and possibly save your life—don’t jaywalk!

During the fall and spring semesters, three shuttle services provide free transportation to shops near the Coral Gables campus and to Coconut Grove, a popular hot spot. (A valid ’Cane Card is required to ride all shuttles.)

The Sunset Shuttle Service goes from Stanford Circle and Ponce de Leon Garage on campus to South Miami’s Shops at Sunset Place and the nearby Publix supermarket. The shuttle service operates Friday and Saturday evenings, from 8 p.m. until 2 a.m. (the Publix stop is serviced until 10 p.m. when the store closes) for the entire University community.

The University Center Shuttle operates nightly from 5 to 11 p.m. and goes from the Stanford and Dickinson Circles on campus to the corner of Mariposa Court and Madruga Avenue. Several retail stores are located near this corner, including TGI Friday’s, Blockbuster Video, and Starbucks.

Ibis Ride provides free and convenient transportation between campus and Coconut Grove. Operating between Stanford Circle and the center of the Grove on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights from 8 p.m. to 3:30 a.m., Ibis Ride alleviates the transportation and parking hassles for UM students interested in enjoying the sights and sounds of Coconut Grove.
